Message by the Vicar

Dearly beloved in Christ Jesus,

Thomas Merton, the Christian mystic and thinker, rightly said, “To be grateful is to recognize the love of God in everything He has given us – and he has given us everything.” Indeed, there are countless blessings for which we ought to be grateful. Above all, we are to be grateful to God for the gift of life and the abundant possibilities for growth, renewal and flourishing that life offers. For the joy of salvation that we experience through the life, death and resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ, we are to remain thankful unto God. The companionship of friends, families and fellow-believers through which God’s love becomes real and tangible among us is to fill us with joy and thanksgiving.

Gratitude is not merely saying “thank you” after receiving a favour; it is more than a polite response to an act of kindness. Gratitude is a way of seeing the world - a particular way of interpreting reality that confronts us each day. Gratitude recognises the presence of God in both the ordinary and extraordinary moments of life. We remain grateful not only during happy times but also amid the hardships of life. For we trust that God is work in every circumstance of our life. As the Apostle Paul reminds us, “We know that all things work together for good for those who love God, who are called according to his purpose” (Romans 8:28).

Each time we come to worship, we are invited to express our thanksgiving to God from the depths of our heart. And that is why Holy Communion - the central act of Christian worship – is referred to as “Eucharist” derived from the Greek word eucharistia meaning “thanksgiving.” Worship becomes a continual offering of gratitude – our hearts filled with love and praise to God.

Yet, there are times when we allow ingratitude to creep into our hearts and reign over our lives. People with a heart of ingratitude complain and grumble for almost everything; they find wrong with every people and every situation. Ingratitude takes out joy from our life; it hardens our heart and creates deep rift in our relation to God and fellow beings. As we celebrate another Thanksgiving Day, let us come together to prayerfully reflect on the ways God has led us so far and continue to guide us. May this season awaken in us a renewed sense of gratitude and praise.

“O Lord, help us continually to offer praise and thanksgiving to you...”

Prayerful regards
Joseph John achen
